Sponsor React Rally 2017
August 24-25
Salt Lake City, Utah

React Rally is a two day technical conference focused on the React.js framework and topics related to it. The attendees are software developers on the cutting edge of technology who are building front-end applications in JavaScript and native iOS and Android applications with React Native. Sponsoring React Rally is a great way to reach passionate and knowledgeable developers who are leaders in their field and influence others.

We anticipate that we will have 500 attendees at React Rally this year.

Atmosphere of the Conference

React Rally is a community conference, which means that it has a casual, relaxed atmosphere with a focus on interaction between speakers and attendees. There is a single track of talks with several long breaks scattered throughout the day to give people time to meet, discuss what they learn, and explore the venue and the city.

Because the focus is on community interaction, we have events and activities planned throughout the conference to get attendees to talk to each other. These are perfect opportunities to sponsor and build goodwill towards your brand.

What People Are Saying

Here's what a few of our speakers and attendees had to say:

> This was a really fantastic conference! Some of my absolute favorite details were the great graphic design theme, the attention to detail in putting the program together (top notch choices for both very first and very last talks of the conference), and the venue itself worked very well - the theater was nice and the downstairs "lounge" area was great for mingling.

> Loved the constant breaks. Great for taking a break, networking, and just absorbing all the cool stuff we just heard.

> React Rally was by far my favorite conference last year. Soo much love goes into it. Can't wait to go back this year!

> Mark your calendars. This conf is 💯

The Organizers

React Rally is put on by Matt Zabriskie (@mzabriskie) and Jamison Dance (@jergason).

Matt is a well known open source developer and a long-time community organizer. He started the AngularJS Utah meetup, and runs the React Utah, and UtahJS meetups.

Jamison is an active speaker, organizer and podcaster. He co-hosts the JavaScript Jabber and Soft Skills Engineering podcasts, runs the UtahJS and Utah Elm Users meetups, and is an avid conference speaker.
